Appropriation Causes Lengthy Debate in the House During Which Charges Are Attacked by Thomas Sales.

BASIS OF HIS OBJECTION RECEIVES HOT FIRE OF LOW

Plea For Co-operation Between East and West to Secure Some Shipments Through Atlantic Ports, Is Made in Course of Argument.

OTTAWA, June 18.—(Canadian Press)—Administration of Government grain elevators was discussed in the House of Commons tonight, when the estimate of $420,000 came up for approval and was finally passed.

Thomas Sales, Progressive, Salt Lake, renewed his attack on charges for elevator service, claiming that enormous profits had been made. To date, government elevators had made nearly $4,000,000, he said, according to figures supplied to him by the department itself.

Hon. T. A. Low, Minister of Trade and Commerce, said the statement of receipts and expenditures of government elevators was not a balance sheet, but a statement of the operation of the elevators. He said that the government was not a business, and that it was not to be judged by the same standards as a business.

Four Hurt in Blast When Short Circuit Ignites Sewer Gas

TORONTO, June 18.—Short circuit of wires in a Toronto hydro-electric manhole at Yonge and Richmond streets tonight, caused an explosion of accumulated gas that lifted a man-hole cover sixty feet in the air and injured four persons.

Four big windows in a nearby store were shattered and a girl clerk inside was thrown from her chair. Customers rushed out through a shower of glass. The streets were crowded with motor cars and pedestrians at the time, and a momentary panic prevailed.

KAMACK, Sask., June 17.—Two men faced the same girl, and that was the explanation for the free-for-all fight among Doukhobors north of Regina on Monday night, when one of the lovers was killed by a bullet from a revolver.

Two charges of murder were laid against the two men, and the case is now before the court at Regina.

WOMAN IS DOWNFALL OF LOCAL YOUNGMAN

Frank Stevenson, Broke, Faced With Keeping Date or Losing Girl, Takes $5 Under False Pretences, Then Pays Penalty, Going to Jail For Six Months.

A date with a girl and no money to spend on her, were the contributory causes for Frank Stevenson obtaining $5.00 under false pretences, according to a charge brought in the Police Court yesterday.

The young man was found guilty of the charge and sentenced by Magistrate George B. McLeod to six months in Port Saskatchewan jail.

Clark K. Winslow, Miss Edith Emily Fisher, a clerk in the Basic Confectionery Store, 3211 Jasper Avenue, from whom Stevenson was alleged to have obtained the money, was the principal witness brought forward by A. M. Knight, Crown prosecutor.

Stevenson came into the confectionery store on the evening of Saturday June 14, while the girl was working there. He asked her to give him five dollars, saying that he was a student and needed the money for his books.

She gave him the money, and he left. He was seen by a friend, who told him that he was a student and needed the money for his books.

Union Leaders Declare Opposition to Government's New Offer—Walk-out Ordered for Five o'Clock This Afternoon.

WESTERN CANADA WORKERS CONTINUE AT THEIR POSTS

Men at Toronto and Moncton Given Time Limit to Return—Postal Clerks at Latter Point Resume Jobs After Leaving.

The postal workers' strike started in various cities in Eastern Canada yesterday, despite the instructions from union officials to defer it twenty-four hours.

In Montreal the strike lasted but a few hours, and then the men returned to work, but they are expected to walk out again today.

Throughout Western Canada the workers were ready to strike yesterday, but they were not allowed to work when the notice was given that the general strike would be deferred for further negotiations.

Spokesmen for the unions declared last night that the Government's new offer would be considered, and that the strike would go into effect throughout the Dominion at five o'clock this afternoon.

Orders were issued at Ottawa yesterday for all postmasters in cities where the strike had started to give the men until ten o'clock this morning to return, and then to begin filling their positions.

The strike was in effect in Toronto and Moncton last night. It was not thought probable that the workers in these two cities would abide by the postponement orders and work today.

The Montreal strike looked serious for a few hours, but later the men returned, and last night everything was proceeding as usual.

Local officials last night said action here would not be taken pending receipt of word from headquarters in the East. In the meantime they are standing pat, they said.

Not Wanted?

The Attorney-General of Ontario has finally got to the point of issuing a warrant for the arrest of the former assistant treasurer of the province, who charged with having shared improperly in the division of the spoils of transactions in provincial bonds. The disclosure was made three months ago. If Matthews is guilty he has been given ample time to put himself under the reach of the law. The circumstances suggest that the Ferguson Government will not do any lamenting if he has made good use of the opportunity.

Alberta Left Out

The Ontario Minister of Mines has returned from a trip to England, and gives out the information that he has arranged for an ample supply of Welsh coal for the use of the people of that province next winter. The fuel, he says, is superior to United States anthracite, and with the keen competition for coal freight it can be laid down in Montreal and Toronto at a lower price than the U.S. operators are making. Welsh mine owners are undertaking operations with a special view to meeting the prospective demand from Canada. The stage thus appears to be all set for getting along next winter without any Alberta subsidy.

A Poor Substitute

The League of Nations Council is to take over the duties of the inter-Allied mission which has been watching Berlin with a view to seeing that it did not make preparations to start another war. That may be regarded as a concession to the feeling of resentment in Germany that a military affairs should be continued by a body representing the Allies. Whether it is a concession that can satisfy Germany is another question. The real "military control" of Germany is being exercised by the French army in the Ruhr. If the idea is to withdraw that holding force, and substitute a company of League secretaries armed with a battery of typewriters, there will be room for grieving as to the results.

Not Talking for Canada

The Parliament of Great Britain is doing a good deal more worrying over the defeat of the Baldwin preference scheme than either the Parliament or the people of Canada. Conservative leaders at Westminster profess to think that the Empire is liable to collapse unless it is bound together with a preferential tariff. So far as this particular Dominion is concerned there is no occasion for uneasiness on that score. The people of the Canadian people want the people of Great Britain to take themselves for their benefit. Mr. Baldwin and his associates are benevolent for the interests of the Empire, but they are not getting. With returning subsidies the Germans are getting farther away from the Commonwealth. The loyalty of the Canadian people is not being tested by suggesting that they need to be bribed to stay in the Empire.

Too Many Irons in the Fire

Early reports from South Africa indicate that the Smuts Government has been defeated by a combination of National and Labor opponents. If that is the case one of the most picturesque figures at recent Imperial conferences in London, and one of the most outspoken exponents of Imperial solidarity, will fade out of the limelight for the time. General Smuts has taken a very prominent and forceful part in the attempts at a settlement of the European entanglement, losing the war. Perhaps he took too large a part in that distant and complicated problem for the good of his Government. President Wilson found that the League of Nations was a Europe with one hand and the United States with the other. General Smuts may owe his downfall to a like attempt to do too much at once, at the expense of neglecting the domestic affairs of the South African Union.

Omitting the Speeches

The city council has decided to substitute newspaper advertising for public meetings, in preference to the noisy bylaws which are to be voted on next Monday. Judging by the number of people who usually turn out to meetings of that kind, there are not likely to be many objects to the substitution. It is rather the way to arouse wide interest in a string of noisy bylaws is to call a gathering of newspapermen to attend to address by members of council and to allow the members to be heavily discounted by the records of attendance. It is a pretty plain inference that the publicity secured through newspaper advertising is not gained so much at the meetings through the newspaper reports of the proceedings. The aldermen have evidently come to the conclusion that the same old story of making speeches for the papers to report.

Road Construction

Apparently another serious attempt is being made to pass without any serious attempt being made to use. At Mr. McMurtry's aid in road construction. At the present session of the Legislature took power to borrow some millions of dollars for road improvement, the automobile "newspaper" of the bonds by the annual purchase of licenses. The province, while there was no promise to that effect, there was at least room to hope that some of the money would be spent in trying out on a somewhat comprehensive scale the practicability of surfacing main highways with northern asphalt. The deposits of this material are without limit. The Province owns and operates a line of railways which reaches them, and which is starting for want of traffic. Gravel is in this part of the province too scarce and dear to be used for road construction. So far as present conditions indicate it is a choice of bringing the tar sands into use or of going to the trouble and expense of piling up earth roads for the rains to destroy.

If road construction were done altogether out of current tax-money this hand-to-mouth practice would not be so wasteful. But now that the Government has embarked on the definite policy of capitalizing prospective revenues and borrowing money in millions for road construction, it surely cannot be its intention to neglect the opportunity to construct roads that will last. If that is done, the province will be left with an enormous road debt and nothing to show for it but the kind of roads we have at present. The delusion may well be abandoned that the province can be constructed of earth. The fertile soil of this province is too susceptible to moisture to make good road material. That kind of soil plus water makes mud, and mud is not a road material. It is in proportion to the amount of water and the amount of earth that has been heaped up on the road allowances. By no process of road construction will the province be able to build earth roads that will last. It is a temporary one, and to be possible it has to be dragged and repaired after every heavy rainfall.

It is not that the McMurtry road is not suitable for use without a gravel or concrete base. It may be that the cost of surfacing a road with a heavy matting of that material would be more than the tax money could provide. But these are points which can only be settled by experiment, and the experiment will have to be tried out on a fairly large scale. The McMurtry road is a freight charges will enter largely into the laid down cost of tar sands. But the cost of bringing down a single car under present conditions cannot be taken as showing that would be the cost of handling the traffic if there was developed a large and regular volume of it. A time when the Government is spending money on the roads would seem to be the time to try a demonstration of the practicability of making roads which are really permanent. To build a road by the method to build any other kind of roads is suicidal. If the province is to be plunged into debt merely to build roads, it is suicidal. The present roads that fact ought to be made known to the taxpayers before the thing is done.

MORNINGS OF THE MARKETS

Wheat Continues to Soar
Large Gains Being Shown
On the Winnipeg Market

WINNIPEG, June 18.—The bullish movement continued to show itself in the wheat market today and prices worked up rapidly, on the extreme bulge, July showing a gain of 3½ cents and October 2½ cents above the close on Tuesday. Considerable re-selling, however, due to profit-taking near the close, caused values to ease and at the close July finished 2½ cents higher, October 1½ cents higher and December 1½ cents up. Trade was very active throughout the session and a large business was worked, exporters and shippers being good buyers. Liverpool cables again showed strength and this reinforced the already strong position.

Chicago Grain

CHICAGO, June 18.—Continued a spectacular advance today and the upward surge of the wheat market continued. All deliveries of both crops over-topped the previous previous record. The weather was the chief stimulus for the advance, with the forecast for the week being 2 to 3 inches less than the 10 to 15 inches needed for the crop to be a success. The market was 117 to 118 1/2 to 119 1/2 cents, with cash, show varying from ten cents decline to 22 to 25 cents up.
